REDWOOD CITY HOME GUARD

CHAS. G. LANDSCHEIT ELECTED COMPANY'S CAPTAIN AND LIEUTENANTS CHOSEN

Amid much enthusiasm the first regular meeting of the Redwood City home guards was held Monday evening in the council chamber of the city hall, Charles G. Landscheit presiding.

Mr. Landscheit addressed those present with a few preliminary remarks relative to the regulations set forth by the government, and immediately thereafter took up the routine of work.

First in order was the calling of the roll and as over the two-thirds necessary to constitute a quorum was present, the election of officers was taken up.

Upon the recommendation of Superior Judge Buck, chairman of the San Mateo County Council of Defense, District Attorney Franklin Swart, also a member of that body, placed in nomination the name of Charles G. Landscheit for the office of captain. In nominating Mr. Landscheit, District Attorney Swart laid stress upon a careful selection for this office, and inasmuch as Mr. Landscheit had, through his efforts, brought the home guard to a successful beginning, and in connection with his military experience, all naturally pointed to him as the proper one to see that the destiny of the Redwood City home guard is carried on in a manner secondary to no other similar organization.

Amid much enthusiasm the nomination carried unanimously.

Walter S. Baker Jr., and William J. Graef were both unanimously elected to the offices of first and second lieutenants. Both men have had military training.

The matter of appointing the non-commissioned officers will be taken up after Captain Landscheit has had an opportunity to review the men.

Tuesday evenings at 7 o'clock has been selected as the day and time for meeting.

TOWN TRUSTEES IN ADJOURNED SESSION

SOME NEEDED ACTION UPON STREET-CROSSING MENACE UP FOR CONSIDERATION

The trustees held an adjourned session last Monday evening. All the trustees were present and rushed the business of the meeting through to make way for the home guard company which met in the council chamber that evening. The boxing ordinance prohibiting boxing contests in Redwood City was given its final reading.

Mrs. N. J. Brittan was permitted to connect with the city mains for the use of her home.

E. T. McGettigan, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, was granted permission to remove the "Danger" sign on El Camino Real at Broadway and that sign be placed in the same position indicating that point as an entrance to Redwood City.

The contract for the improvement of Winslow street from Broadway to the railroad crossing was awarded to Blanchard-Brown Co., there being no other bidders.

A resolution was adopted declaring the intention of the trustees to order the improvement of Vera avenue. The improvement will consist of the laying of sewers and the construction of concrete curbs and the paving of the roadway with macadam with an oil surface.

Trustee Tuchen reported that the street committee had in contemplation a recommendation for the closing to public travel of the railway crossings at Finger avenue, Jackson, Monroe and Buckeye streets. Before final recommendations are made, however, it is the desire of the committee that those interested be given an opportunity to make suggestions. Should it be decided to close these crossings, it is the intention to request the Southern Pacific to install permanent crossings at Broadway, Main and Jefferson streets.

An ordinance was given its introductory reading defining drunkenness and making it an offense for any person to appear in that condition either in a public or private place. The ordinance defines as "drunk" any person who from the use of intoxicating liquor is "unable to walk without staggering or to talk coherently."

THE BOXING GAME AT SAN MATEO

DECISION IN THE MAIN EVENT COMES UP FOR CRITICISM BY ATHLETIC FANS

The draw decision handed down by the judges in the main event between Al. Anderson and Al. Doyle at the Floral City Club's boxing show at San Mateo last Tuesday night spotted what otherwise would have been a good evening's sport, and sent the fans home in disgust. Doyle, who has been performing regularly before the San Mateo Club, has become a local favorite, and it has been proven on more than one occasion that if he is still on his feet at the end of the fourth round, he will at least be given a draw.

Anderson realized when he stepped into the ring with Doyle that he would have to win by a wide margin in order to be given the decision, and he accordingly entered the ring in the pink of condition and ready to step the four round route at top speed.

Doyle, however, fought as if he was scared to death, and absolutely refused to mix with Anderson at any time during the first three rounds. In the final round, Doyle seemed to gain a little confidence in himself, and went in and swapped punches with the Redwood City boy.

Had he fought this way from the beginning, the fans would have seen a real contest, and Anderson most likely would have saved the judges the humiliation of a bum decision, as it is not at all likely that Doyle would have been able to stand the pace for the four rounds.

The remainder of the bouts were all well contested, and one of the largest crowds of the season was on hand to witness the show, Redwood City being particularly well represented.

ABOUT "THE MAN ACCUSED OF CRIME"

DISTRICT ATTORNEY F. SWART TELLS INTERESTING STORY ABOUT LEGAL METHODS

"The Man Accused With Crime" was ably discussed at the forum, Baptist church, Sunday evening, by District Attorney Swart. He began by referring to the sad condition, physically, of the men in our jails and prisons. Their surroundings lend little to their reformation. He then spoke of the difference between accused and convicted. Many persons are unjustly accused; some unjustly convicted. It is the duty of the prosecuting attorney to try to get at the facts in the case, rather than to simply work for conviction.

The speaker briefly outlined his method in dealing with the accused—to take him into his office for a frank talk; trying to get some account of his life, gain his confidence and induce him to tell the truth about the matter for which he is accused and to be tried. Most of the men who come before him are chronic criminals of a mild type. They have gone down gradually from one offense to another, aided, usually by the use of some drug, either liquor or opium, etc. And getting into this condition, it is practically impossible for them to reform or keep out of jail. They are physically "unfit."

Not all men accused have a fair chance before the court. Some have "influences" favorable to them; some "influences" unfavorable. In general a man accused will fare best by putting himself into the hands of the court; reveal the facts in his case and not try to deceive the court. He is safer in the hands of the court than in the hands of the most skillful criminal lawyer.

The method of choosing jurors was taken up, and its unfairness shown. Often it is influenced by politics and often by factions. The County Commissioners who give the names to the Judge, may put in the names of men who are wholly unfit to give a just verdict. These jurors have been known to render verdicts entirely contrary to the evidence. And in general, jurors are not qualified to hear and weigh evidence. A system of instructing juries before cases are taken up is necessary. He concluded by referring to reforms now taking place in jails and prisons; reforms greatly needed.

EFFECT OF NEGRO MIGRATION

Negro associations are passing resolutions advocating a wholesale emigration of their race from the South to the North. The injustice under which they suffer in the Southern States through the denial of their civil rights is given as the moving cause of this determination to migrate—and if the exodus takes place upon any extended scale its effect will be great, both from an economic and a political angle. It will deprive the Southern States of the plentiful and cheap labor which they have so long enjoyed for the production of their staple crops; and it is very likely to affect the political power of those States, as well. For instance, under the present regime in the South, the negro is counted in the census and thus made a basis for representation in Congress and in the electoral college. He is, however, denied the right to vote; and swollen ranks of Southern Congressmen and electors are the result. The next census will be taken in 1921, and upon it will be calculated the Congressional and electoral strength of the States. If thousands of negroes come North, some Southern States will suffer a diminution of population and, in consequence, of political strength; while some Northern States will proportionately profit.

REPUBLICANS GIVE SUPPORT

In the words of Congressman Moses P. Kinkaid of Nebraska, the purpose of the food bill is "to win the war," and as the Commander in Chief of the Army and Navy, who Mr. Kinkaid admits, must know more about what is needed than he does had asked for the legislation, he gave it his support. "This is not a time," declared Mr. Kinkaid, "to let any consideration, personal or political, stand in the way of our fullest and heartiest cooperation with the President." In giving voice to those sentiments Mr. Kinkaid expressed what is in the minds of members of the Republican party generally, both in the Senate and House. The biggest obstacles that have been put in the path of needed war legislation have been placed there by Democrats, as witness the determined fight against the food bill that has been waged by leading Democrats of the Senate.

Professor John M. Stillman, acting president of Stanford University, is very much perturbed because the big army camp is located near the university. Don't be alarmed professor, the coeds will not run away with the soldiers.

Each applicant will furnish you with the proper form for this purpose.

HALFMOON BAY ITEMS

Miss Lizzie Albrecht was given a banquet dinner on Sunday night at the home of Wm. Misner at Halfmoon Bay, at which 18 friends sat around the table and enjoyed an elaborate dinner, cooked as no one else can, for Misner is renowned for his feeds. Many toasts were given to Miss Albrecht as the dinner was given in honor of her birthday.

The many friends of Rev. Father A. Andriano gave him a farewell reception at the Pillar Hall Wednesday evening, upon the eve of his departure for Healdsburg. A purse was presented to the Father by his friends amounting to $136. Dr. C. L. Morgan presented the same making a very touching address. Singing and dancing was enjoyed by all who had gathered. The entire community of the coastside regrets very much the departure of this kindly man, but are glad that the heads of the Catholic Church are aware of his worth and sent him to a larger field of work. We are sorry to have Rev. Andriano leave us and wish to congratulate him on his upward steps upon the rounds of the ladder of success and fame.

Mrs. M. J. Bettencourt, Miss Belle Vallejo, and Locke Nelson returned from their San Diego trip last Tuesday. They report a pleasant time. Jos. P. Dutra and wife of Palo Alto visited with home folks here last Sunday.

Mr. Pone of San Gregorio has recently moved his family here. They are occupying the house on Main street in which the Fletcher family formerly lived.

Halfmoon Bay met and defeated South San Francisco Parlor N. S. G. W. on the local diamond last Sunday. The score of the hotly contested and exciting game was Halfmoon Bay 5; South San Francisco 4.

Alvin S. Hatch left Wednesday for a hurried trip to Los Angeles, due to the death of a cousin.

O'RELL'S DEFINITION OF LUCK

Did you ever happen across Max O'Rell's definition of "Luck"? It may serve as an answer to some of those who refer to freaks of fortune: "Luck means rising at 6 o'clock in the morning, living on a dollar a day if you earn two, minding your own business and not meddling with other people's. Luck means appointments you have never failed to keep, the trains you have never failed to catch. Luck means trusting in God and your own resources."

Max O'Rell never said a wiser thing, and no better definition of "luck" can be given. It should be printed and hung up in every office, counting room, work shop and family living room.

both young men are expert anglers. A coterie of friends will enjoy the ospitality of Mrs. Augustus Taylor at luncheon at her attractive home in Menlo Park, a congenial group of hose summing on the peninsula naking up the guest list. Informal 'airs of the kind are among the most interesting happenings of society in that community this summer.

Judge Buck of the superior court of the county at Redwood City on Thursday made an order permitting Mrs. Partridge, the administratrix of the estate of Charles A. Partridge, deceased, to sell all the real property in Santa Cruz county, Menlo Park, and Visitation. The property was appraised some time ago at $13,000.

The strip of land required for widening Golden avenue has been purchased from Mr. Merrill and yesterday the fence was removed and preparations for active work begun. Mr. Merrill and Mr. Larkin have agreed to give another strip on the east side of the tract in order to widen the street paralleling the railroad tracks. It is understood that a concrete sidewalk will be constructed all around the Merrill block.

J. M. Timmons, a wealthy farmer of Siskiyou county, but for many years retired from active business and a resident of San Francisco where he maintained apartments at the Arlington hotel, has leased the Maloney Block bounded by Oak Grove avenue and El Camino Real. He will maintain a large department store. He pays a rental of $200 a month. Mr. Timmons will move his family here shortly. He is widely known throughout the State.

Early next week soldiers will begin to pour in from several western states so that Menlo Park will certainly take on a military air. The first to arrive will probably come here on Wednesday next from Utah. The government has already provided $600 cots for the visitors.

In the field owned by the Mary's of San Francisco, and leased by Mrs. McKnight will be located the general hospital. Here will be erected a permanent concrete building. The forty acres fronting on El Camino Real and also owned by the same party is to be the parade grounds. It is understood that every tree on the tract will be cut down to make a good and smooth surface for the big parades of the soldiers that will take place from time to time. Distinguished persons from all over the world will witness these exhibitions.

The government is to have its own aviation field at Camp Fremont. The Maloney tract back of Holy Cross Cemetery is to be used for the birdmen. Many hundreds men will be trained for work in France.

The government has awarded a contract to construct a sewer from the camp to the bay. Work will begin at once and pushed to a rapid completion.

Now that the controversy between the Stanford University and the government has been settled amicably all the soldiers are resting easier.

Next week will begin the active construction of the camp buildings. Dirt will surely fly. The buildings will be constructed by August 20.

Superintendent Ahearn of the Southern Pacific Company arrived here on Thursday in his private car from San Francisco and inspected construction work being done by the company. He spent the day here.

All construction work at the training camp for the Twentieth division National Guard, will be rushed through at virtually the same time as the result of the award of a blanket contract by the National Defense Board, according to Captain William Fleishacker, constructing quartermaster in charge.

The single contractor awarded the huge contract, calling for the expenditure of upward of half a million dollars, will be called upon to see that men and materials sufficient to handle the big job are mobilized at once. Although the law prohibits the subletting of any government on-tract, much of the work undoubtedly will have to be assigned by the central contractor to other contracting companies.

In this way the laying of water and gas pipes and of sewerage mains, the installation of electric wires and the construction of upward of six hundred buildings will go forward at the same time.

The instructions sent to Captain Fleishacker by the Defense Board show that the government will have wide latitude in the supervision of the purchase of supplies and equipment. The contractor, the instructions state, will be rigidly bound by certain maximum prices for material. In a number of cases the place where the materials must be purchased, as well as the exact price to be paid, is specified.

That the large bulk of the supplies will be purchased through San Francisco is made certain by the Defense Board's order to purchase supplies from the market nearest at hand wherever possible, so that the movement of freight will be kept down.

Several thousand laborers will be needed for the work, and probably will be advertised for as soon as supplies and equipment can be assembled here.

The construction work will be rigidly inspected by Captain Fleishacker, who will be assisted by a score or more of quartermaster corps officials and inspectors, due to arrive here within the next few days.

According to the plans laid down by the Defense Board, the constructing quartermaster is virtually dictator of the work, empowered to suggest or direct at almost every turn, while the contractor is in reality a middleman, acting in the purchase of supplies and in the employment of labor, as an agent of the government.

Captain W. G. Fleishacker last night wired to Washington for authority to enter into a contract with the Bear Gulch Water Company for the furnishing and laying of pipe for the water system for Camp Fremont. The amount of the contract will be in the neighborhood of $100,000. If the contract is made work on the laying of the pipe will begin at once.

A contract will also probably be made later whereby the Bear Gulch Water Company will agree to furnish 2,000,000 gallons of water daily to the camp.

K. OF C. HEADQUARTERS AT CAMP BELMONT

The Knights of Columbus throughout the United States are engaged in a big drive for funds to establish in all the camps throughout the country headquarters for the soldiers. San Mateo Council during the week has taken up subscriptions and on next Sunday an appeal will be made in all the Catholic churches in the Peninsula for funds for this purpose. The Grand Knight, Jas. T. O'Keefe, of San Mateo Council, Knights of Columbus has appointed the following committees: Timothy Sheehan, Colma; Judge Cunningham, South San Francisco; J. J. Jones, San Bruno; Carl Maroney, Burlingame; John F. McCann, San Mateo; E. J. Tobin, Hillsborough; J. J. Shields and Joseph J. Hahir, Redwood City; Jas. L. Duff and Jas. T. O'Keefe, Menlo Park; and T. D. Ferguson, Palo Alto.

Already several large checks have been sent into the committee aggregating $2500. All checks will be made out in favor of the "Knights of Columbus War Camp Fund" and may be sent to any of the above named gentlemen.

Wilson, the Palo Alto candyman, will soon open up an ice cream parlor in the O'Keefe block.

Donald Derry has been appointed agent for the Daily Examiner and San Francisco Call for Camp Fremont and he has an excellent chance to be the agent for the San Francisco Bulletin. James P. Maloney has secured the agency for the Chronicle. As there will be between 15,000 and 20,000 papers delivered daily at the camp it will be readily seen that these agencies will be valuable assets.

Fred Lippman, the Redwood City jeweler, has rented a portion of the Thomas Casey store and will at once establish a jewelry and music store and will also conduct a repair shop. It seems as if all the old timers are coming back to Menlo Park. Mr. Lippman's father resided here before the advent of the railroad in the very early sixties having purchased at that time the property which is now owned by A. G. C. Hahn. Mr. Lippman resided for a long time at the old Golder hotel. The jeweler remembers vividly the stirring scenes of those by gone days for he was a very small boy at the time.

Mrs. Arabella Eyre Pinckard, whose girlhood was spent at Atherton, passed away at San Rafael on July 23rd after a lingering illness. She was known in her youth as Miss Arabella Eyre and was one of the pretty Eyre sisters who were reigning belles a decade ago at Atherton. Mrs. Pinckard was the mother of Monroe Eyre Pinckard and George Monroe Pinckard and wife of George M. Pinckard, who survives her, and sister of Mrs. Richard Gilvin and Miss Mary Eyre and E. L. P. P. and Robert M. Eyre. Mrs. Pinckard was a highly educated woman, possessing many intellectual attainments.

MENLO PARK PIONEER PASSES AWAY MONDAY

All that was mortal of William Hammerson, the pioneer blacksmith of Menlo Park, who passed away in his home on Santa Cruz avenue, on Monday last after a long and painful illness, was laid to rest in Cypress Lawn Cemetery on Thursday afternoon. The services at the home by Rev. Hugh Montgomery of the Episcopal church, was impressive and witnessed by a large number of old time friends. The following acted as pall-bearers: M. Polson, George Nunn, John Daly, John Heitzel, W. E. Dale and James G. Mason. Mr. Hammerson came to Menlo Park 34 years ago and opened a blacksmith shop which he conducted with success up until the time of his last illness. He was an expert mechanic, well-liked and admired for his robust honesty and kind consideration of others. He was very fond of out-door sports and perhaps he was the most expert angler in the county, knowing every stream in the mountains and every haunt of the trout. As a young man he entered the government service of England, where he was born 67 years ago, and worked at the navy yard at Portsmouth.

The deceased is survived by a wife, Mrs. Sarah Hammerson, and two sons and two daughters—William Hammerson, Percy L. Hammerson, Mrs. John W. Poole and Mrs. Rose Nelson. A brother, Alfred Hammerson, passed away at Belmont last April.

EFFECT OF NEGRO MIGRATION

Negro associations are passing resolutions advocating a wholesale emigration of their race from the South to the North. The injustice under which they suffer in the Southern States through the denial of their civil rights is given as the moving cause of this determination to migrate—and if the exodus takes place upon any extended scale its effect will be great, both from an economic and a political angle. It will deprive the Southern States of the plentiful and cheap labor which they have so long enjoyed for the production of their staple crops; and it is very likely to affect the political power of those States, as well. For instance, under the present regime in the South, the negro is counted in the census and thus made a basis for representation in Congress and in the electoral college. He is, however, denied the right to vote; and swollen ranks of Southern Congressmen and electors are the result. The next census will be taken in 1920, and upon it will be calculated the Congressional and electoral strength of the States. If thousands of negroes come North, some Southern States will suffer a diminution of population and, in consequence, of political strength; while some Northern States will proportionately profit.

REPUBLICANS GIVE SUPPORT

In the words of Congressman Moses P. Kinkaid of Nebraska, the purpose of the food bill is "to win the war," and as the Commander in Chief of the Army and Navy, who Mr. Kinkaid admits, must know more about what is needed than he does had asked for the legislation, he gave it his support. "This is not a time," declared Mr. Kinkaid, "to let any consideration, personal or political, stand in the way of our fullest and heartiest cooperation with the President." In giving voice to those sentiments Mr. Kinkaid expressed what is in the minds of members of the Republican party generally, both in the Senate and House. The biggest obstacles that have been put in the path of needed war legislation have been placed there by Democrats, as witness the determined fight against the food bill that has been waged by leading Democrats of the Senate.

Professor John M. Stillman, acting president of Stanford University, is very much perturbed because the big army camp is located near the university. "Don't be alarmed professor, the coeds will not run away with the soldiers."

THE WEEK'S EVENTS IN LOCAL CIRCLES

Redwood City as Seen Through Incidents Gathered Here and There

Mrs. J. Stacy of Mayfield is here on a short visit to her son, J. Stacy, the railroad foreman.

A baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. M. Divita in Redwood City, Wednesday, July 25, 1917.

Miss Sallie Nelson, the popular teacher, has arrived home from Harrison where she spent an enjoyable vacation of a month.

The Alpine Social Club will give its first dance in Wozzagni's Lodge at La Honda this evening. A large number are going to attend the function from here. The supper at Wozzagni's are hard to beat.

Attorney F. D. King, wife and young son are here from Reno to spend a vacation of six weeks. Mr. King has for a number of years spent his vacation here where he passed his boyhood. He is one of the prominent lawyers of Reno.

Mrs. William Wahl, who has been at the Redwood City hospital for the last few weeks, is not improving as her friends expected she would. Her advanced years and infirmities are against her and it is doubtful if she will be permanently cured.

The dove season opens on September first in this district and in the northern part of the state on August first. By the time the season opens nearly all the birds will have left these parts. Usually the season opened on August first in this section.

Mrs. Lila Kirkpatrick arrived home last week from her vacation spent at Long Beach. Mrs. Kirkpatrick did not relish the hot weather of the southland. She is more enthusiastic about Redwood City than ever, fully believing there is no place on earth like it.

William Fleming fell from a load of hay at the Pope ranch at La Honda on Wednesday and was severely injured. His shoulder was badly bruised and he suffered internal injuries. He was brought to Dr. Ross' office for treatment and later was taken to San Francisco.

Hall C. Ross arrived home from the East during the week. He attended the Elk's convention and had a delightful time. The weather was ideal beyond the Rockies. He escaped the hot wave and did not encounter it until he reached California. Mr. Ross noted the apparent prosperity all over the East.

William Bodirsky, for the past three years waiter at the Sequoia grill, leaves tomorrow for the Presidio to join the Second Company of the Coast Artillery, National Guard of California. Mr. Bodirsky has seen service in the Philippines. He expects to leave with his company in a short time for Linda Vista to go into active training.

Dr. Benjamin Thomas, the ear and eye specialist of Palo Alto who spends one day a week here, has been commissioned a captain in the army and will soon leave for the front. The doctor has a wife and three small children and is beyond the age limit and could claim exemption, but his patriotism would not permit him to be a slacker.

Miss Mary Murray, who recently graduated at the head of her class at Sequoia Union High School, left yesterday for the Yosemite to spend a six weeks' vacation at Camp Curry. On her return she will matriculate at the University of the Pacific at San Jose and will take a full course in pedagogy in that well-known institution of learning.

Dr. E. T. Dykes, only son of Dr. and Mrs. J. H. P. Dykes of this city, has passed the examination of the State Dental Board and this week received his sheepskin admitting him to practice dentistry in the state. He recently graduated from the dental department of the state university. Young Dykes is a skillful operator. He may open an office in San Francisco.

Dr. Norman MacKenzie, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald MacKenzie, was given his diploma by the state dental board during the week. He has taken the army examination and expects to be called to the front any moment. He was one of the first drawn at Washington last Friday. The doctor is a splendid operator. He will be commissioned a lieutenant and will practice his profession among the soldiers in France.

Rev. Doctor John D. Maguire, rector of St. Elizabeth's church of Philadelphia, arrived here on Thursday to spend his vacation of two months. The doctor for years held the chair of Latin in the Catholic University of Washington, D. C. and resigned that position in 1915 to accept the pastorate of St. Elizabeth's, one of the largest and most flourishing parishes in the City of Brotherly Love. Father Maguire is one of the foremost pulpits orators in the country. He is a nephew of Mrs. R. A. Sweeney Peela and usually spends his summers on the Sweeney ranch near town.

Mrs. Mabel Thompson and Mrs. Lavina Sahiberg celebrated their birthdays at the latter's home in the Highlands last Wednesday evening by playing cards and dancing. First prizes were won by Mrs. Mary Schempt and Mr. Charles Sahiberg; consolation prize by Mrs. George Peterson and Clayton Sahiberg. A repeat finished a very enjoyable affair.

CHARMING SOUL PASSES AWAY

Sincerely Mourned and Revered Lady Resident Obeys Call to Higher Life

Again the grim reaper with his sickle keen, has struck down a shining mark and taken from our midst a noble, Christian woman, a faithful and loving wife and as unselfish and devoted a mother as it is possible to create in true womanhood.

At ten minutes past two o'clock last Saturday afternoon, the dark, unwelcome Angel of Death, knocked at the portals of the home of a respected pioneer family of this city, and surrounded by her husband, sons and daughter, doing everything within their power, with the assistance of the best medical aid obtainable, to spare to them a wife and mother, Maria Luigia Genochia peacefully closed her eyes in that long, last sleep, while her spirit sped hence to meet the God who gave it.

Born in Italy February 5th, 1843, Mrs. Genochia landed in New York City, with her husband Joseph, in 1860, and three years later came westward settling first at Portola, in this county. In 1874, they moved to this city, which has ever since been their home. Here they devoted themselves to the rearing of their children of whom six, Antonio, John A., Peter, Louis, George A. and Mrs. Clarence E. Choate, together with the husband Joseph, and one brother, Antonio Starla, of 2913 California street, San Francisco, a number of grandchildren and several great-grandchildren survive to mourn a loss that never can be replaced.

The funeral was held last Monday morning from the late residence of the deceased on Jefferson street, thence to Mount Carmel Catholic church, where a solemn requiem high mass was celebrated at 9:30.

The Holy edifice was thronged with men, women and children who came from far and near to pay the last fond tribute of love and respect that it is possible for man to perform to a worthy woman, and ere the solemn, impressive services of the church and the beautiful singing of the choir had been completed, there was hardly a dry eye visible among the large assemblage. Intermittent took place at Holy Cross Cemetery, Menlo Park, the pallbearers being P. P. Chamberlain, J. F. Johnson, Guy P. Hull, A. D. Walsh, P. A. Ryan and Daniel Flynn, the casket being laid away beneath a huge mound of the finest flowers possible for loving hands to procure.

In the passing of Mrs. Genochia, the frail and feeble words which may articulate or write fall far short of, and are inadequate to express the true worth of the admirable, noble womanhood of one who, on this earth, never shall we meet again. Ever true, as she was to America, the country of her adoption, loving and faithful to her husband, devoted to her children, to her church and to her God, it is difficult indeed to realize that we must reluctantly draw life's curtain and bid go an honored woman a long, last, sad and affectionate farewell.

REDWOOD YOUTH IN AERO CORPS

Kenneth Rice Notes Observations Made at Camp in Michigan and Sends Letter Home

Kenneth Rice, young son of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Rice of this city, writes to his parents from the Ninth Squadron, Selfridge Aero Field, Mt. Clemens, Michigan. He joined the aero squadron some months ago and after a short time at San Diego was transferred to Michigan. Young Rice is a graduate of the local high school and is young man of promise. He writes as follows:

"Things are coming along fairly well up here except for the mud. It rains every other day and in that way keeps the mud softened up.

Capt. Jones took the 8th and 9th squadron over in the hangar the day before yesterday and told us we would be in France inside of six months, and that only the best men would get a chance to go. He said that as soon as commissioned officers enough were brought together he would ship them right away in squadrons formed out of us men. Today we got our identification pieces giving our name, squadron and rank. He sure was serious in what he said so things don't look like I will see Redwood for a while to come. That talk he gave us acted like a physic on most of the fellows around here because they are running around with faces as long as telegraph poles.

One of the boys I chum with was over in Canada and I am going over with him next Sunday if we can get a pass. He sure is a swell kid, he's from Biggs, Butte County, Cal., about my age and we get along fine together. We expect to get a chance to go through some of the auto factories while we are here. This place is about twenty-three miles from Detroit, and it takes us about an hour and fifteen minutes to get there from here, and costs 95 cents, including the carfare from where we hit the car line to the interurban depot. The car line in this part of the country treat us like white people. The town of Mt. Clemens is about 9000 population and is to Detroit like Redwood City to San Francisco."

MAX COHEN AT REST

Max W. Cohen, the well-known jeweler of San Francisco and known to almost everyone in Redwood City, passed away at his home in the city Tuesday evening. His death was sudden he being ill but a short time. Mr. Cohen had been camping at La Honda with the Flynn family and only left last Monday for San Francisco to go to work. Mr. Cohen some years ago married Miss Kate Flynn of this city, sister of Mrs. George Stafford, Mrs. E. Hogan and Mrs. Limbaugh of Redwood City and Mrs. Stoll and Miss Nora and Annie Flynn of San Francisco and brother of David Flynn, the local agent for the Ford automobile and Dan Flynn of San Francisco. He is also survived by a brother Harry Cohen an da sister, Mrs. Charlotte Robinson. The deceased was a native of San Francisco. The funeral took place on Thursday from St. Agnes' church, where a requiem mass was celebrated for the repose of his soul. The interment was in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

Camp Fremont Notes

Early next week soldiers will begin to pour in from several western states so that Menlo Park will certainly take on a military air. The first to arrive will probably come here on Wednesday next from Utah. The government has already provided 6000 cots for the visitors.

In the field owned by the Mary's Help hospital and leased by Mrs. McKnight will be located the general hospital. Here will be erected a permanent concrete building. The forty acres fronting on El Camino Real and also owned by the same party is to be the parade grounds. It is understood that every tree on the tract will be cut down to make a good and smooth surface for the big parades of the soldiers that will take place from time to time. Distinguished persons from all over the world will witness these exhibitions.

The government is to have its own aviation field at Camp Fremont. The Maloney tract back of Holy Cross Cemetery is to be used for the birdmen. Many hundred men will be trained for work in France.

The government has awarded a contract to construct a sewer from the camp to the bay. Work will begin at once and pushed to a rapid completion.

Now that the controversy between the Stanford University and the government has been settled amicably all the soldiers are resting easier.

Next week will begin the active construction of the camp buildings. Dirt will surely fly. The buildings will be constructed by August 20.

Superintendent Ahearn of the Southern Pacific Company arrived here on Thursday in his private car from San Francisco and inspected construction work being done by the company. He spent the day here.

All construction work at the training camp for the Twentieth division National Guard, will be rushed through at virtually the same time as the result of the award of a blanket contract by the National Defense Board, according to Captain William Fleishhacker, constructing quartermaster in charge.

The single contractor awarded the huge contract, calling for the expenditure of upward of half a million dollars, will be called upon to see that men and materials sufficient to handle the big job are mobilized at once. Although the law prohibits the subletting of any government on-

K. OF C. HEADQUARTERS AT CAMP BELMONT

The Knights of Columbus throughout the United States are engaged in a big drive for funds to establish in all the camps throughout the country headquarters for the soldiers. San Mateo Council during the week has taken up subscriptions and on next Sunday an appeal will be made in all the Catholic churches in the Peninsula for funds for this purpose. The Grand Knight, Jas. T. O'Keefe, of San Mateo Council, Knights of Columbus has appointed the following committees: Timothy Sheehan, Colma; Judge Cunningham, South San Francisco; J. J. Jones, San Bruno; Carl Maroney, Burlingame; John P. McCann, San Mateo; E. J. Tobin, Hillsborough; J. J. Shields and Joseph J. Hahir, Redwood City; Jas. L. Duff and Jas. T. O'Keefe, Menlo Park; and T. D. Ferguson, Palo Alto.

Already several large checks have been sent into the committee aggregating $2500. All checks will be made out in favor of the "Knights of Columbus War Camp Fund" and may be sent to any of the above named gentlemen.

Wilson, the Palo Alto candyman, will soon open up an ice cream parlor in the O'Keefe block.

Donald Derry has been appointed agent for the Daily Examiner and San Francisco Call for Camp Fremont and he has an excellent chance to be the agent for the San Francisco Bulletin. James P. Maloney has secured the agency for the Chronicle. As there will be between 15,000 and 20,000 papers delivered daily at the camp it will be readily seen that these agencies will be valuable assets.

Fred Lippman, the Redwood City jeweler, has rented a portion of the Thomas Casey store and will at once establish a jewelry and music store and will also conduct a repair shop. It seems as if all the old timers are coming back to Menlo Park. Mr. Lippman's father resided here before the advent of the railroad in the very early sixties having purchased at that time the property which is now owned by A. G. C. Hahn. Mr. Lippman resided for a long time at the old Golder hotel. The jeweler remembers vividly the stirring scenes of those by gone days for he was a very small boy at the time.

Mrs. Arabella Eyre Pinckard, whose girlhood was spent at Atherton, passed away at San Rafael on July 23rd after a lingering illness. She was known in her youth as Miss Arabella Eyre and was one of the pretty Eyre sisters who were reigning belles a decade ago at Atherton. Mrs. Pinckard was the mother of Montrose Eyre Pinckard and George Monroe Pinckard and wife of George M. Pinckard, who survives her, and sister of Mrs. Richard Girvin and Miss Mary Eyre and E. L. P. P. and Robert M. Eyre. Mrs. Pinckard was a highly educated woman, possessing many intellectual attainments.

tract, much of the work undoubtedly will have to be assigned by the central contractor to other contracting companies.

In this way the laying of water and gas pipes and of sewerage mains, the installation of electric wires and the construction of upward of six hundred buildings will go forward at the same time.

The instructions sent to Captain Fleishhacker by the Defense Board show that the government will have wide latitude in the supervision of the purchase of supplies and equipment. The contractor, the instructions state, will be rigidly bound by certain maximum prices for material. In a number of cases the place where the materials must be purchased, as well as the exact price to be paid, is specified.

That the large bulk of the supplies will be purchased through San Francisco is made certain by the Defense Board's order to purchase supplies from the market nearest at hand wherever possible, so that the movement of freight will be kept down.

Several thousand laborers will be needed for the work, and probably will be advertised for as soon as supplies and equipment can be assembled here.

The construction work will be rigidly inspected by Captain Fleishhacker, who will be assisted by a score or more of quartermaster corps officials and inspectors, due to arrive here within the next few days.

According to the plans laid down by the Defense Board, the constructing quartermaster is virtually dictator of the work, empowered to suggest or direct at almost every turn, while the contractor is in reality a middleman, acting in the purchase of supplies and in the employment of labor, as an agent of the government.

Captain W. G. Fleishhacker last night wired to Washington for authority to enter into a contract with the Bear Gulch Water Company for the furnishing and laying of pipe for the water system for Camp Fremont. The amount of the contract will be in the neighborhood of $100,000. If the contract is made work on the laying of the pipe will begin at once.

A contract will also probably be made later whereby the Bear Gulch Water Company will agree to furnish 2,000,000 gallons of water daily to the camp.

MENLO PARK PIONEER PASSES AWAY MONDAY

All that was mortal of William Hammerson, the pioneer blacksmith of Menlo Park, who passed away at his home on Santa Cruz avenue, on Monday last after a long and painful illness, was laid to rest in Cypress Lawn Cemetery on Thursday afternoon. The services at the home by Rev. Hugh Montgomery of the Episcopal church, was impressive and witnessed by a large number of old time friends. The following acted as pallbearers: M. Polson, George Nunn, John Daly, John Helzel, W. E. Dale and James G. Mason. Mr. Hammerson came to Menlo Park 34 years ago and opened a blacksmith shop which he conducted with success up until the time of his last illness. He was an expert mechanic, well-liked and admired for his robust honesty and kind consideration of others. He was very fond of out-door sports and perhaps he was the most expert angler in the county, knowing every haunt of the trout. As a young man he entered the government service of England, where he was born 67 years ago, and worked at the navy yard at Portsmouth.

The deceased is survived by a wife, Mrs. Sarah Hammerson, and two sons and two daughters—William Hammerson, Percy L. Hammerson, Mrs. John W. Poole and Mrs. Rose Nelson. A brother, Alfred Hammerson, passed away at Belmont last April.

The sum realized by the society was $450 and this was distributed in equal amounts to the three branches at Menlo Park and the Red Cross Society here. Each received its check Wednesday from George Nunn, the treasurer of the organization. The society has done nobly in the good cause and deserves the thanks of every loyal and patriotic citizen.
